

CALLING ALL SINGERS...

COME AND SING CHORAL EVENSONG
in the beautiful setting of
ALL SAINTS' CHURCH, HARSTON
Saturday 27th September at 6pm

No previous experience necessary
All ages are welcome

Conductor: Luke Fitzgerald, Director of Music
at Pembroke College Cambridge
Organist: Alastair Oatey, Organist at All Saint's
Church, Harston

WHAT IS CHORAL EVENSONG?

Evensong is a 470-year-old choral music tradition. It's a c.45-minute service, in which almost the entire service is sung, not spoken, including a psalm, anthem and some other songs.

"heard at the 'even' point between the active day and restful night, allowing listeners time for contemplation – church members, agnostics and atheists alike"

SCHEDULE

2.30pm ~ Rehearsal
Then ~ delicious tea, before...
6pm – c.6.45pm ~ Evensong

Introit: Amy Beach Peace I leave with you
Preces & Responses: Ayleward
Psalm (setting for the day)
Magnificat & Nunc Dimittis: Stanford in B flat
Anthem: Elgar Fear not O Land
(all music will be provided)

Harston Churchyard is beautiful at this time of year, and the church itself is recently restored with beautiful new stone floor and seating; the perfect acoustic and setting for a late summer evening.

For those who would prefer not to sing in the choir, please come for the tea and stay for the service.

For further details nearer the time, please check the website: www.hhn.church
For further details on the benefice: <https://www.harstonhauxtonnewton.org.uk/>